"Bonjour!" Students learn a new language the same way they learn to speak in their native tongue, by listening, repeating, and speaking. The Berlitz Method, an immersion technique, is a communicative approach that focuses on oral proficiency, while incorporating age-appropriate activities in the target language to promote language learning in context. Students are motivated to use language accurately, appropriately, and coherently, by participating in practice activities according to their age level. Students are able to produce creative writings, sing songs, act out role-plays, play games and perform skits in the target language.

Fencing enhances many skills: agility, balance, poise and speed are only a few of the numerous rewards gained by studying the sport. Modern fencing is one of the safest martial art sports. The protective gear used in fencing includes leather gloves, mask and uniform (which are made of Kevlar, the same material used to make bullet-proof vests).
